The role of a choice design for the packaging of high-end products is not to be understated. Current trends creating high expectations of a product's appearance require new and exceptional solutions.

Label printing is especially suited to increase the attractiveness and significance of a package and to entice purchasing.

UVSM 181 is a deep-matt opaque black with a velvety yet scratch-resistant surface. It is perfectly suited for the ennobling of roll-to-roll labels on flatbed screen printing machines.

UVSM 181 is highly reactive and not being sensitive to varying cure qualities. These variations often result in differing gloss levels, especially with the processing of matt ink systems on stop-and-go printing machines.

Additionally, UVSM 181 provides excellent receptivity of metallic hot foil stamping and of thermal transfer foils.

Main characteristics

- Highly matt finish with optimal ink flow
- Deep black, velvety ink film
- Outstanding overprintability with gloss varnishes UVLG 1 and 5
- Highly reactive formulation
- Modern rheology and stable viscosity
- High resistance against delamination during product filling

Your advantages

- Impressive, aesthetic appeal of the printed product
- Long-lasting optical quality thanks to the scratch-resistant surface
- Eye-catching contrast effects through selectively applied gloss overprints
- Fast curing on stop-and-go systems without glossy blotches
- Unexcelled, sharp-edged definition and receptivity of hot stamping and thermal transfer foils
- Pre-eminent printability, easy handling, fewer rejects and machine stops
- Well suited for numerous fill goods
